PREFACE

THIRD EDITION
1969 REVISED REPRINT

Since publication of the 1964 edition of the National Library of Medicine Classification, additions and changes to the schedules have been issued in Notes for Medical Catalogers,* issued by the Cataloging Section of the Library. These and more additions and changes are incorporated in the Supplement attached to this reprint of the 3rd edition.

The original 3rd edition was prepared under the supervision of Miss Emilie Wiggins, Head of the Cataloging Section. Dr. Frank B. Rogers, Professor of Medical Bibliography and Librarian of the University of Colorado Medical Center in Denver, and Mrs. Jane Fulcher, Librarian of the Washington Hospital Center Library offered a number of helpful suggestions.

The supplementary pages were prepared by Miss Wiggins with the help of Mrs. Stella Schehl, Assistant Head of the Cataloging Section and Mrs. Gertrude Payne, Secretary.

The Library would like to acknowledge here the suggestions for additions and changes submitted by Dr. Genevieve Nicole-Genty of the Académie nationale de médecine in Paris. Dr. Nicole-Genty has translated the NLM Classification into French. Most of her suggestions have been incorporated in the English edition and the Library is grateful for her cooperation.

INTRODUCTION

The National Library of Medicine Classification covers the field of medicine and its related sciences. The various schedules of the Library of Congress Classification supplement it for subjects bordering on medicine and for general reference material.

The Library applies subject classification to monographs only. Serial publications are separated by form and are assigned call numbers within several broad categories. For details, see page IX.

The headings for the main tables (e.g. Musculoskeletal System) are given in brief form. They should be interpreted broadly as encompassing the anatomical regions chiefly concerned, the physiological system, the specialty or specialties connected with it, and subordinate related fields. Within the tables, division by organ usually has priority. A work on a particular disease is classified with the disease, which in turn is classified with the organ or region chiefly affected, regardless of special emphasis on diet, drug, or other special form of therapy.

In the index to the Classification, when several numbers have been assigned to one subject, the first number is to be used for general works on the subject.

Books dealing with several subjects that fall into different areas of the classification should be classed by emphasis, or, if emphasis is lacking, by the first subject treated.

Under each main table (as well as in some sections, e.g. WO 201-) the numbers 1-32 have been uniformly assigned, with minor deviations dictated by the nature of the material. Not all of these numbers are printed under every table, but those omitted may be interpolated as required.

Geographic subdivision is provided for certain subjects in the NLM schedules by the application of Table G (see pages XIII-XX). The use of geographical breakdown is restricted to those classes which are marked "Table G" in the schedules.

Two types of monographic publications are classified according to special plans: bibliography and nineteenth century titles.

Bibliography. A bibliography within the scope of the NLM Classification takes the class number for the subject, prefixed by a capital Z. For example, a bibliography on the history of surgery will have the classification ZWO 11. Bibliographies of medical serials are classed in ZW1. (Cf. footnote, page IX).

Bibliographies outside the scope of the NLM Classification will ordinarily be classed in schedule Z (Bibliography) of the LC Classification.

Nineteenth Century Titles. A simplified subject classification derived from the complete NLM schedules has been devised for nineteenth century (1801-1913) monographs. This abbreviated classification (pages 213-221) is limited to combinations of letters, with certain exceptions: W 1-6, W 600, WX 2, the entire WZ schedule and the form number 22 throughout, for directories. Another exception is nineteenth century bibliography, which is classified in accordance with principles stated above. In applying the LC schedules other than Z to nineteenth century publications, the National Library of Medicine, as with its own schedules, uses letters only, for books published 1801-1913.

Early Printed Books. While for 19th century titles the subject arrangement has been simplified, for early printed books it has been eliminated completely, and books are arranged alphabetically by author within each century. Thus the entire classification scheme is a grouping by centuries, with detailed, extensive subject classification applied only to titles issued after 1913.

In this Third Edition, notes pertaining to individual schedules will be found at the beginning of each schedule.

CLASSIFICATION OF SERIAL PUBLICATIONS

Serial publications are those which are issued in successive parts and are intended to be continued indefinitely (e.g., periodicals, journals, transactions, annuals, numbered series, and other continuations). They are classified according to type of publications in six categories.*

Category 1. Serials of medical importance, including hospital publications which are predominantly clinical, and governmental publications which resemble magazines rather than official documents. These serials are usually indexed in medical and scientific indexes. Classification: W 1.

Category 2. Non-medical serials which are classified according to the LC Classification.

Category 3. Serial publications of numbered medical congresses, whether local, national, or international in scope. Classification: W 3.

Category 4. Serial publications of hospitals (except clinical material) regardless of private or public sponsorship. Classification: WX 2.

Category 5. Medical serial publications of governments, except those which are preferred in Category 1. Classification: W 2.

Category 6. Certain kinds of publications issued serially are classed in form numbers used also for monographs. For example, directories, whether monographic or serial in nature, class in form number 22. Numbers used for both types of materials are marked in the schedules with an asterisk. Note that all of the numbers so used are form numbers and therefore the practice is not an exception to the Library's serial policy.

*Exception: Serial publications which are indexes or bibliographies (e.g., Cancer Current Literature and Tuberculosis Index) are classified in the bibliography number for the subject covered.

SERIAL NUMBERING

The National Library of Medicine uses a special scheme of numbering to insure the alphabetical arrangement of the large number of serials contained in categories 1 (W 1) and 3 (W 3). Under this scheme the first two letters of the main entry are used followed by two or more numbers according to the number of entries to be numbered. Examples:

W 1 Revista comercial farmacéutica
RE359

W 1 Revista cubana de gastroenterología
RE3594

W 1 Revue belge de pathologie
RE743

W 1 Russia (U.S.S.R.) Armiîa. Trudy
RU76

W 3 All-India Pharmaceutical Conference
AL545

W 3 Congrès français de stomatologie
CO263

Because the NLM Shelf List has been so crowded by the continued influx of new serial titles, a new device has recently been introduced. Where desirable, instead of using two letters mnemonically plus two to five Arabic numerals, NLM uses the two letters plus two or three Arabic numerals followed by capital letters used just as the additional Arabic numerals had been used. In this way the numbers can be expanded by multiples of 26 instead of by multiples of 9. Examples:

W1
RE 419 Revista de medicina. México

W1
RE 419E Revista de medicina. Recife.

W1
RE 419H Revista de medicina. Rosario de Sante Fé.

W1
RE 419L Revista de medicina. São Paulo.

Thus, there are still available W1 RE 419A–D, W1 RE 419F–G, and so on, before it becomes necessary to use W1 RE 42.

TABLE G

Purpose. The principal use of Table G is in the arranging of serial publications of governments, which take the form class W 2; and hospital publications, which take the form class WX 2. Use of Table G permits a shelving order which is controlled both geographically and alphabetically.

Table G is also used, on a somewhat restricted basis, for geographic grouping of monographs.

General Explanation. Table G is a modified Cutter pattern, adapted for special purposes. It divides the world into ten regions to each of which an identifying letter is assigned:

A—United States
D—America
F—Great Britain
G—Europe
H—Africa
J—Asia
K—Australia
L—Pacific Islands
M—International
P—Polar Regions

Additional numbers may be interpolated into Table G as needed. Variants of place names do not require a change in Table G numbering (e.g., JT3 Siam or Thailand).

Countries and regions, other than the United States, are provided with numerical designation on the basis of medical as well as geographical and political considerations. This means that Table G, in addition to its main purpose, makes provision for geographical groupings which cannot be used to indicate source of material, publishing agency, or authorship (e.g., GA1—Europe; DA2—North America).

United States Numbers. Because of the multiplicity of publications pertaining to the United States and of U.S. Federal, state and local documents, special provision has been made for their arrangement.

Works pertaining to the internal affairs of the various sections of the U.S. Federal Government, with the exception of the Armed Forces, take the designation "A".

Those pertaining to the internal affairs of the Armed Forces take the following designations:

A1 Department of Defense
A2 Department of the Army (War Department, excluding Air Corps)
A3 Army Air Forces (to 1947)
A4 Department of the Air Force
A5 Department of the Navy

TABLE G

When geographic subdivision is to be used for books pertaining to the United States but not pertaining to the internal affairs of specific Government departments, AA1 is used. AA1 is used also for geographic subdivision by two or more states or territories of the United States.

Each state has been provided with a separate number. New York City has a separate number assigned to it (AN7). This has been done in order to differentiate it adequately from New York State (AN6) and to provide a simple notation for this entity because of its size and prolific publications.

Subordinate Political Units. Each country number may be modified to form a county (province, prefecture, state) or a city number by the addition of .1 (county) and .2 (city). Examples:

FE5—England
FE5.1Y6—Yorkshire
FE5.2L6—London
DC2—Canada
DC2.1B7—British Columbia
DC2.2T6—Toronto

In the United States it is the individual state number which is so modified. Examples:

AT4—Texas
AT4.2F6—Fort Worth

Application to Serial Documents. Examples to illustrate the application of Table G to serial documents (W 2):

W 2 U.S. Army. Air Corps. Matériel
A3 Division
M4te Air Corps technical report

W 2 Connecticut. Commission on Alcoholism

W 2 Gt. Brit. General Register Office
FA1 The Registrar General's quarterly
G3re return. . .

W 2 Saskatchewan. Dept. of Public Health
DC2.1 Annual report
S2D3a

Application to Hospital Serials. Hospital serial reports (WX2) are cuttered to arrange the titles geographically within the class and to identify each hospital. Decimal subdivisions .1 and .2 for subordinate political divisions are not used but a notation is added to represent the city. Examples:

Civilian hospitals

WX Los Angeles. Cedars of Lebanon Hospital

U.S. Military Hospitals. Named hospitals have fixed locations and are cuttered the same way as civilian hospitals except that the military symbol precedes the geographical notation. Numbered hospitals do not have fixed locations and geographical notation is not applied to them.

Application to Monographs. Table G is used to express geographical groupings for subjects in the NLM Classification. When LC Classification numbers are used, the geographical breakdowns provided in the LC schedules are to be applied.

Table G is used for monographic titles on a broader basis than for serials. For example, a history of medicine limited to one city, or to one section of a country, takes the geographic notation for the country, except that the state designation is used for material limited to a U.S. city, county or state.

PHARMACOLOGY

Works that are classed in this section deal with pharmacology in general or with the pharmacology of individual drugs or of types of drugs grouped according to their specific action. Works on individual drugs are classed according to what is considered to be the drug's principal action. All works about the drug are classed in the number selected (with a few exceptions) even when the work is about the toxicology of the drug rather than its pharmacology. If, however, the title deals with the use of a specific drug in the treatment of a particular disease, it classes with the disease. In selecting numbers for works on drugs not indexed, the same pattern should be followed.

Classify works on vitamins in QU; on antineoplastic agents, in QZ; on endocrine preparations (including synthetic substitutes) in WJ, WK, or WP; and non-endocrine biologicals, in QW.

The section beginning with QV 700 is used for classifying books dealing with the general aspects of pharmacy and pharmaceutics, as contrasted with pharmacodynamics. Note that many of the form numbers are used again in this section.

INFECTIOUS DISEASES

All major systemic infections are to be found here with the exception of tuberculosis, which is in WF, Respiratory Diseases. A few infectious diseases, usually local in character, are classed with the part affected (e.g. impetigo is classed in Dermatology, WR 225). If no specific class is found for a relatively obscure disease such as pseudoglanders, such material may be classed on the basis of likeness (i.e., in this case, with glanders). Classify material on an infection which affects a single organ with the organ.

WS

PEDIATRICS

Classify material on anatomy and physiology of the child in QS or QT. Material on the various body systems in children is classed in the WS table; pediatric works dealing with something other than body systems per se are classed elsewhere (i.e. a book on surgery in children would class in WO 925). It should be noted that while a book dealing with respiratory ailments of childhood classes in WS 280, a book on pneumonia in infants would class with pneumonia, WC 202. Material on schizophrenia in childhood classes in WM 203.
